

Upper Ocmulgee River Resource Conservation and Development Council

The Upper Ocmulgee River RC&D Council Area Covers DeKalb, Gwinnett, Rockdale, Newton, Henry and Jasper Counties Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) is a 501 (C)(3) non-profit effort by local government and community leaders and volunteers to identify and find solutions to human, economic and environmental concerns.

Since its conception in 1964, local people have been working together and through RC&D Councils to promote and improve the quality of life in their area.

Each RC&D Council develops an area plan with participation from Local, County and City Governments, Soil and Water Conservation Districts, Regional Development Centers and local volunteers.

Building a Sustainable Future

Showcasing Urban Agriculture and Best Management Practices

Donate to Support the Work of The Upper Ocmugee River RC&D Council, Inc.

Become a member of The Upper Ocmugee River RC&D

Support Community Development, Natural Resource Management

The Upper Ocmugee River RC&D Council, Inc. is a 501(c)(3) Non-Profit

Mission & Vision

Mission: Our Mission is to improve our communities by balancing environmental quality with economic and cultural development.

Vision: We envision our individual communities and the state of Georgia developing in harmony with our natural and cultural resources. We foresee environmental quality and economic opportunity given equal consideration as the Metro-Atlanta area grows.

Contact Us About Volunteer Opportunities!

Youth Development

Gardening

Soil Conservation

Community

The Upper Ocmulgee River RC&D Council, Inc.
750 S. Perry St. Suite 308
Lawrenceville, GA 30046
678-376-9518

Ellis Lamme, President
erlamme@att.net